

Dr. P. K. Gode Memorial Prize for Searching a Rare Sanskrit Manuscript

The soul object of the prize is to search Sanskrit Manuscripts and make interested the young Scholars into Sanskrit Manuscripts, their Editing and Publishing. Thus the prize will be given yearly to those papers published in the 'Pratnakirti', which are ever been concerned with a rare Manuscript of Sanskrit, Hindi or having historical values.

Note:

1. The selection committee (Editorial and Advisory boards of the Pratnakirti) will select one paper from current volume (including four issues) for prize.
2. The Organizer/s of the prize would not be eligible for the prize.
3. The decision of the selection committee will be final in all.
4. The selected author/s of the prizes will be informed through the first issue of the upcoming volume of Pratnakirti, as well as by E-mail/s.
5. The prize (a sum of rupees One Thousand or books of same value) will be sent to the Authors by post.
6. If papers are not found suitable, the prize will be lapsed for that year.
7. For all legal cases the centre will be Varanasi only.

(This Prize is organized by Dr. Pravin Kumar Mishra, Lecturer: Sanskrit, Krishk Upkarak Intermediate College, Sadarpur, Matalabpur, Moradabad, U.P., India.)
